

Senior Health Promotion Officer Full time

Diabetes WA is WA's peak body representing those at risk or impacted by diabetes in Western Australia. Our work has one single focus – to minimise the impact of diabetes through prevention or management of the condition so that Western Australians can lead a better quality of life.

Due to the growing demand for diabetes services, we are seeking an experienced and enthusiastic Health Promotion professional to join our team. This position will function in collaboration with the Health Promotion Manager and is responsible for coordinating and implementing health promotion contracts. You will also make a significant contribution to the organisation's health strategy and operations, supporting the implementation of a wide range of services to people with diabetes.

We would love to hear from you if you have:

- A minimum of 5 years experience in a health promotion role.
- Successfully completed a tertiary degree qualification in health promotion (or relevant health discipline).
- Advanced knowledge and understanding of health promotion principles and practices.
- Knowledge of diabetes as a public health priority.
- Knowledge and awareness of public health advocacy strategies.

If you want to make a difference for people living with diabetes, email your resume and a 2-3 page cover letter outlining your experience in relation to the selection criteria to kylie.mcdonald@diabeteswa.com.au by 5.00pm on Monday 13th February.

For a position description and more information on what we offer please visit the careers page on our website <http://www.diabeteswa.com.au/careers>. For any other enquiries please call Cherise Hawkins (Health Promotion Manager) on 9436 6240.
